BURN IT ONLINE

What is good about producing your own music if no one can hear it? One of the most aggravating decisions plaguing independent artists is CD duplication and the often-high costs and lengthy turnaround times associated with it. Answering what has certainly been a deluge of requests, Disc Makers now offers a new online duplication service in which artists can order as many as 500 CD-Rs, complete with color on-disc printing and various packing options, and receive their completed order in as few as 48 hours.

Customers are able to snail mail or simply upload all of their materials, design their CD and place the duplication order from the company's Website. And unlike other duplication services, users are able to specify the exact number of CDs that they need. Check it out at www.discmakers.com.
